MORE THAN A LOGO

A partnership should feel relevant.

Our aim is not simply to place your logo in front of an audience. We want to create a role for your organization that feels natural, useful, and connected to the conference experience.

Start with your objective.

Perhaps you want stronger brand recognition, meaningful conversations with attendees, a visible on-site presence, or a platform for sharing expertise. The best package depends on what you want people to remember and do.

Use this brochure as a starting point.

The packages provide a clear framework, while the add-ons allow us to respond to your priorities. If something important is missing, bring it into the discussion. Availability, production requirements, and final scope will be confirmed together in writing.

The question to begin with:
What would make this partnership valuable for your organization?

let's FIND out.

Choose your way to take part.

Five partnership formats, built around your objectives and the conference community.

Science grows through connection.

An international forum connecting emerging researchers with established scientists and experts.

Learn, connect and build the future together.

ERaNS NextGen brings environmental research and nuclear sciences into a shared programme. Its mission is to help early-career researchers exchange ideas, present their work, strengthen practical skills and build lasting professional networks.

Who you can connect with
MSc and PhD students, postdoctoral researchers, early-career professionals, established scientists, engineers, policymakers and industry specialists.

PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS

- Opening and plenaries
  Invited international perspectives on scientific and societal questions.
- Thematic presentations and posters
  Research exchange with a focus on young researchers.
- Hands-on workshops
  Alpha spectrometry and related nuclear measurement techniques.
- Mentoring and outreach
  Project-idea pitches, a collaboration roundtable and an open public lecture.

A shared field of interest.

Twelve research tracks connect fundamental science with practical applications.

TAILORED QUOTATION

Support participation

Discuss early-career registration support, travel grants or awards. Recipient selection remains with the organizers.

Support connection

Explore coffee breaks, lunch or a networking reception, with the catering scope and acknowledgment agreed in advance.

Support practical delivery

Offer approved printing, useful conference materials or relevant in-kind services.

Explore scientific engagement

Sponsor Spotlight Talks, thematic sessions and a 50-minute Industry Insight Session may be discussed as add-ons, subject to programme fit and approval.

You send the files. We handle setup.

An agreed production and display workflow keeps your materials ready for the conference.

01 Agree the scope

Confirm the print quantity, paper size, display location, timing and price before production.

02 Approve the proof

Supply your logo, print-ready brochure and contact URL. Files are checked and your approval is requested.

03 Coordinate delivery

The organizer arranges the agreed printing, prepares the display and replenishes materials during agreed periods.

04 See what was delivered

Receive a short delivery summary and placement photos without identifiable attendee images.

Interested attendees connect through your own contact link or QR destination. A dedicated sales representative, technical demonstration, original design or translation requires a separate agreement.

Let’s build the right partnership.

Share your organization, preferred format, scientific interests and any print or exhibition requirements.

AGREED BEFORE WE BEGIN

- Scope and price. All packages are starting points. Benefits, quantities, availability, deadlines and payment terms require written confirmation. Applicable taxes and excluded production, registration or service costs are itemized in the proposal.
- Scientific independence. Sponsorship does not guarantee abstract acceptance, publication or a speaking invitation, and gives no influence over scientific decisions. Commercial demonstrations require approval and clear identification.
- Contact and consent. No attendee mailing list is supplied. Organizer emails follow the agreed scope; interested participants contact sponsors through their own links.
- Physical materials. Sponsors source and purchase gifts unless a separate sourcing arrangement is agreed. Printing follows proof approval and depends on lead time and capacity.

Enquiries do not create a booking.

[1] Standard profile = logo + short description (up to 40 words) + clickable logo linking to the sponsor's website. Extended profile = Standard profile + description up to 80 words + visible website link + contact details. Prominent profile = Extended profile + larger, priority placement + description up to 100 words + social-media link(s).

[2] A static page using HTML, CSS and presentational JavaScript. Sponsors must provide the source code; the page template is fixed. Alternatively, the Conference can provide design and setup services for an additional fee.

[3] Located on the Sponsors or dedicated sponsor page. This can be shown on main pages for an additional fee.

[4] A maximum of one logo of sponsors may occupy the designated page. If the sponsor's logo is already displayed elsewhere on the main page, it will not appear in the footer.

[5] Emails will be distributed by the organizer. No email addresses or contact lists will be shared, and there is a strict limit of up to 2 emails per month.

[6] Applies to eligible welcome-kit items only; branding on the conference bag is not included.

[7] Sponsors are responsible for sourcing and purchasing all physical promotional items. The organizer will handle distribution.

[8] Sourcing and purchasing are managed by the Conference. Product, material and delivery costs are not included and will be quoted separately.

[9] €0.50 per label if managed by the Conference
